WASHINGTON NEWS.

Secretary Foster's Work Down to a System.

A DIVISION OF DEPARTMENTS.

How Certain Assignments Will Be Made. A Loss in the Treasury Department Will Be Soon Located — Other Dispatches from the National Capital.

WASHINGTON, April 28. — Secretary Foster has divided up the work of the treasury department among his three assistant secretaries. To Assistant Secretafy A. B. Nettleton is assigned the general direction and supervision of all matters relating to the appointment, removal, promotion, suspension, conduct or separation from the service of all officers, clerks or employes under the control of the treasury department, excepting those of the customs service who are appointed upon the nomination or recommendation of the principal officers of the customs, and excepting special inspectors of customs, special agents and Chinese inspectors.

The direction and supervision of all the work assigned to the following divisions: Appointments, miscellaneous, including immigration: loans and currency, and public moneys and to the office of the supervising surgeon general, marine hospital service, offices of the chief clerk and superintendent of the treasury building and to the secret service division.

The signing of all letters and papers, as assistant secretary or "by order of the secretary," relating to the business of the above-mentioned offices placed under his direction or supervision that do not by law require the signature of the secretary of the treasury.

To Assistant Secretary Oliver L. Spaulding is assigned the general direction and supervision of all matters relating to the appointment, removal, promotion, suspension, conduct, or separation from the service, of all officers, clerks or employes of the customs service who are appointed on the nomination or recommendation of the principal officers of the customs and special inspectors of the customs, special agents and Chinese inspectors.

The direction and supervision of all the work assigned to the following divisions: Customs, revenue marine and special agents and to the officers of the life saving service, the supervising inspector general of the steamboat inspection service and the navigation bureau.

The signing of all letters and papers, as assistant secretary, or "by order of the secretary," relating to the business of the above mentioned offices that do not by law require the signature of the secretary of the treasury.

To Assistant Secretary Lorenzo Crounse is assigned the general direction and supervision of all matters relating to the public business assigned to the following divisions: Mails and files, warrants, estimates and appropriations and stationery, printing and blanks and to the offices of the light house board, the supervising architect and the bureau of engraving and printing, not including the appointment, removal, promotion, suspension, conduct or separation from the service of officers, clerks or employes under the control of the treasury department.

The signing of all letters and papers as assistant secretary, or "by order of the secretary," relating to the business of the above mentioned offices that do not by law require the signature of the secretary of the treasury.

He will be authorized to sign all warrants for the payment of money into the public treasury and all warrants for the disbursement of money from the public treasury, certified by the proper accounting officers of the treasury to be due upon accounts only audited and settled by them.

The Texas Quarantine.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The department of agriculture yesterday issued a circular giving notice of the extension of the Texas quarantine line into the states of Colorado, Wyoming and Montana. The cattle are allowed to go into these states for grazing purposes or slaughter, and shall on no account be shipped from these states to others before Dec. 1, 1891. The area from which cattle may go into these states of Colorado, Wyoming and Montana by rail is as follows:

All that area included within the following boundary lines visible commencing at the southeast corner of the territory of New Mexico, thence running northerly along the eastern boundary of New Mexico to the southwestern corner of Cochran, state of Texas: thence easterly along the southern boundarys of the counties of Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens and King to the 100th meridian, thence northerly along said 100th meridian to the Red river, where it crosses the eastern boundary of the county of Childress: thence following said Red river to the northwest corner of the county of Wichita: thence along the eastern boundaries of the counties of Wilbarger, Taylor, Trockmorton and Shackelford: thence west along the southern boundary of Shackelford county: thence south along the boundaries of Taylor, Ronnels, Concho, Menard and Kimble counties: thence west along the south lines of Kimble, Sutton and Crockett counties: thence south along the east line of Pecos county to the Rio Grande river: thence along the Rio Grande to the 100th meridian, and thence northerly along said meridian to the point of beginning.

Important Cases Postponed.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—In the supreme court of the United States yesterday Chief Justice Fuller announced that owing to the illness of Justice Bradley, the hearing of arguments in the Behring sea case and the lottery case would be postponed until Oct. 19, as owing to the importance of the cases, it was desirable the arguments should be heard by a full bench.

Seeking Reciprocity.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Senor Galvan, the representative of the San Domingo government sent to the United States to negotiate a reciprocity treaty with this country, was at the state department yesterday and had a preliminary talk with Secretary Blaine on the subject.

Ohio Firm Successful.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The secretary of the navy has decided to award the contract for building two new lighthouse tenders to the Globe iron works, of Cleveland, O., at $155,700 for both.

JEWS EXPELLED.

Eight Hundred Families Ordered to Leave Kieff at Once.

ODESSA, April 28. — Eight hundred Jewish families have been ordered to quit Kieff forthwith. The well-to-do have already gone, but the poor artisan classes are in the greatest straits. Many are arriving on the Austrian frontier in a destitute condition, but the Austrian officials refuse domicile to paupers. The Kieff police accept no excuse, raiding the city with the uttermost severity unless bribed to delay action.

The daily expulsions from Moscow number from 100 to 150. On Sunday an exceptional raid was made, when 600 were expelled. The authorities frighten away many entitled to permanent residence. The effect is felt even in this city, which is a great center for Jews with permits to engage in business.

The emigration of Jews from this city has quadrupled. Permits guaranteed by the minister of foreign affairs, the minister of finance and the minister of the interior, any one of whom has the power to quash their tenure, are considered of precarious value, and the principals of large Jewish firms are placing their business in the hands of Russian agents and are themselves departing.

KILLED IN COURT.

Another Chapter in the Showers-Moore Feud in Kentucky.

ELIZABETH, Ky., April 28.—Another act in the Showers-Moore tragedy took place in the court house Monday morning about 8:30 o'clock. Charles Moore shot William Showers through the head with a shotgun loaded with buckshot, killing him instantly.

When the fatal shot was fired Showers had a revolver in his hand. Showers married Moore's sister. She died with a bullet through her head about two years ago, and her husband was tried under an indictment for murdering her. A few days before Showers' trial Moore was indicted for forging witness claims and skipped the country.

When Showers was acquitted he seemed determined to have Moore caught and succeeded in tracing him to Eagle Pass, Tex., where he was arrested and brought back here in February. The bad feeling between the men has been so intense that the tragedy was no surprise.

EX-CONFEDERATES SUMMONED

To Attend the Unveiling of the Monument at Jackson, Miss.

JACKSON, Miss., April 28.—Adjt. Gen. Henry received the following letter Sunday:

REYNOLDS, Ga., April 23, 1891.

GENERAL—Your cordial invitation to the United Confederate Veterans, extended in behalf of the Ladies' Monument association, the National Guard of Mississippi and the city of Jackson to participate in the unveiling of the Confederate monument at Jackson June 3, has been forwarded to me from Atlanta, and finds me on my plantation. It gives me much pleasure to accept, and I will at once have the necessary orders issued calling the annual meeting of Confederate Veterans at Jackson, Miss., on June 3 next. With the thanks of the brotherhood throughout the south, and with the assurance of my personal and official appreciation, I am, fraternally yours, J. B. GORDON,

Commanding United Confederate Veterans.

A PREHISTORIC VAULT.

Supposed Work of Mound Builders at Huntington, Ind.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., April 28.—Some rude masonary was disclosed to view while cutting the lot of D. A. Purviance, on North Jefferson street, in this city, to a proper level Saturday. About six feet below the natural surface of the earth a pile of stones was encountered which seemed to have been laid for the purpose. They formed an irregular hemispherical mass about six feet in diameter and three high, beneath which were formed layers of flagging, each layer formed by a flagstone six inches thick, six feet wide and eight feet long. Below the mass of masonary and the flagstones was an empty vault. The stones were of the limestone variety, and were a kind that is never found in the vicinity, unless they have been brought here. What the structure has been intended for is a mystery, but it is thought to have been the work of the mound builders.

CHANGE IN CROP PROSPECTS.

An Insect Appears and Wheat Begins to Die in Kansas.

TOPEKA, Kan., April 28.—Secretary of Agriculture Mohler has received a letter from a banker in Russell county, saying that the wheat in that county was turning yellow, and appeared to be dying. It was stated that a small greenish insect had been found in the wheat, and was undoubtedly the cause of the blight.

Senator Hays stated, on authority of the sheriff of Rich county, that some of the wheat in that county was turning yellow. Secretary Mohler has sent the letter to Chancellor Snow, of the state university, asking him that an investigation be made as soon as possible.

GREAT EXCITEMENT IN BERLIN.

Coal Miners of Westphalia Creating an Extraordinary Excitement—Their Actions in Direct Opposition to the Wishes of Emperor William—Other Information Cabled Across the Ocean.

LONDON, April 28.—A Berlin dispatch says that great excitement prevailed yesterday among the coal miners of Westphalia. Bochum and the adjoining districts were patrolled by troops and policemen, and numerous arrests were made of men accused of inciting the people to disorderly conduct. As a rule the persons arrested were leaders of the strike movement and were evidently imprisoned with the idea of overawing the mass of strikers.

It is stated that the kaiser has emphatically condemned the attitude of the miners as interfering with his plans for the improvement of the condition of the working classes, and that the authorities are carrying out his personal views in treating the movement with stern severity. The mine owners are determined not to yield to the demands of the men, especially as to eight hours, and have so stated to the delegates sent to confer with them, some of the masters, however, refusing to have anything to say to the delegates. The masters claim that to surrender would put them in ruinous competition with England and Belgium, and that English coal is already largely sold in Germany.

Mourning for Moltke.

BERLIN, April 28.—A touching incident of the mourning for Count Von Moltke was a message from the foster brother of the dead commander. The foster brother is too aged and infirm to go to the funeral, but he sent a sincere expression of his grief. It appears that when Von Moltke was a child and his parents were poor, his mother adopted the son of an obscure family who had been left hopeless and destitute. The boy grew up to be a worthy man, but never achieved wealth or fame. Von Moltke, in the midst of his greatness, recognized the connection, and always treated his foster brother kindly.

At the time of Von Moltke's death the Berlin court was already in mourning for the late Grand Duchess Olga, of Russia, and the trappings of woe will be continued in tribute to the marshal.

Some who think they know the kaiser do not hesitate to say that he is pleased at the death of Von Moltke, as leaving continental Europe free from any commanders of renown, and the field open for himself as a new genius in the art of war. It is said that Von Moltke exercised a restraining influence on his young master, and that the extent of that influence will soon be made evident by a change in the imperial program.

Lightning's Deadly Work.

LONDON, April 28.—A peculiar accident, or series of accidents, is reported from Forchheim, Bavaria. During a terrible thunder storm, almost unprecedented in that locality, the lightning killed two signal men, who were at their post on the railway. The fatal accident was not observed at the time by the other people, and the signals, of course, went unattended. The next train that came along ran off the track, and was badly damaged, several passengers being injured.

Honorary Promotion.

LONDON, April 28.—The Duke of Rutland has received the rank of Knight of the Garter, in place of the Duke of Bedford, recently suicided.

Working for the World's Fair.

CHICAGO, April 28.—President Palmer, Vice President McKenzie, Commissioners Massey, De Young, Martindale and St. Clair, members of the board of control of the world's Columbian exposition commissioners, met at noon yesterday in the president's office to straighten out the difficulties that have arisen since the commission was in session a month ago. The dismissal of Miss Couzins from the secretaryship of the women's board by the executive committee was considered and Miss Couzins notified to appear before the board to state her side of the case. The board then adjourned.

A Village Destroyed by Fire.

UTICA, N. Y., April 28.—At 11:30 o'clock last night a disastrous fire started in the village of Forestport in the northern part of Oneida county. The flames first appeared in the Sherman house, which was quickly destroyed. Several dwelling houses and stores adjoining were soon enveloped in the blaze, and the people of the village became panic-stricken. Fully twenty-five dwelling houses were destroyed. It is impossible at this hour to estimate the loss.

Village Destroyed by Fire.

UTICA, N. Y., April 28.—The business portion of the village of Harrisville, Lewis county, was yesterday swept away by flames. The fire started at 10:45 yesterday morning in the dwelling house of George Meads. The Carthage fire department was called upon for aid, and arrived at noon. The opera house, postoffice, several stores and about a dozen houses with many small buildings were burned. The loss will amount to $150,000; insurance about half.

Tragedy at a Jail.

MONROE, Mich., April 28.—A tragedy occurred at the county jail yesterday morning. As Turnkey Lehrer entered the cell of two colored tramps, who were awaiting trial for attempted burglary, to remove their breakfast dishes, he was set upon and a desperate attempt made to escape. The officer in the fight shot both men and one was killed instantly, and the other will die.

SOUTHERN EXHIBITION.

Fourteen States and Mexico and Arizona to Be Represented at Raleigh.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 28.—The permanent exhibit which the fourteen southern states and New Mexico and Arizona have joined in establishing in this city opens on the 15th of next May, while from the 1st of October to the 1st of December next a great southern exposition will be held.

Mr. John T. Patrick, secretary of the exposition, and one of the leaders in industrial progress in the southern states, has established his headquarters here and is working energetically to promote and perfect the arrangements for the exposition. He expects a great gathering and a remarkable exhibit of the products and resources of the south.

One of the most interesting features of the exposition will be an exhibit showing the advancement of the colored race. This branch of the exposition will be managed entirely by colored men. Each southern state will have its special colored commissioners, who will have exclusive control over the exhibit from the state. It is expected that this exhibit will in itself draw thousands of people to the capital of the old north state, to learn of the progress made by this people, who less than a generation ago were in slavery.

Train on Another Tour.

NEW YORK, April 28.—Citizen George Francis Train left this city yesterday on his tour around the world. His first stopping place will be at Chicago, where he will dine with the Press club. Next he will be seen at Omaha, and from there he will go to Portland, Ore. To Whatcom he will be conveyed in a special train, at which place he will deliver a lecture that he declares will astonish the natives. Yokohama will be the next point, and he expects to reach the "land of the rising sun" by May 9. After making a tour of the Orient he will be back in New York on July 4. While in Italy he will interview Premier Rudini.

Mother and Son Shot.

NEW YORK, April 28.—About 7 o'clock last night Elizabeth Grundy, aged 43 years, of No. 94 East Eighth street, was shot twice in the right arm and severely injured by James Scheuaren, 23 years old, of No. 191 First avenue. Her son, John, 21 years old, was also shot by Scheuaren in the left breast. Mrs. Grundy was removed to the Bellevue hospital, and John Grundy was left at his home. Scheuaren was locked up in the Fourteenth precinct station.

Big Coal Deal.

DEADWOOD, S. Dak., April 28.—A deal which has been pending in London for the last three months has been closed, and an English syndicate has purchased 4,000 acres of coal land near Newcastle, Wy., from parties residing at Lead City, three miles south of Deadwood, for $75,000. An agent will arrive at Newcastle within a month to inaugurate further development of the property. These mines at present produce 300 carloads of coal a day. It is proposed to increase the output to 500 carloads within a year.

Socialist Parade.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Pa., April 28.—The Socialists' parade here yesterday had 2,000 men in line. The red flag was not displayed. Two large American banners were carried at the head of the column. The parade passed off quietly, and at its conclusion the immense mass-meeting of strikers was addressed by Jonas and Delabar, the apostles of Socialism and others. Jonas took exception to Father Lambing's advice to the strikers and claimed that the priest was ignorant of the principles of Socialism.

Double Tragedy.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., April 28.—A man and woman registering as Mr. and Mrs. Albert Walden, Vernon, Tex., were found dead in their bed at Grand View hotel yesterday. Walden had killed the woman by tying over her mouth a towel saturated with chloroform. He had then shot himself through the heart. A letter discovered indicates that the woman was not Walden's wife, and that he had deserted the latter in Birmingham, Ala. Considerable money was found on Walden's body.

Curtailing of Cotton Productions.

FALL RIVER, Mass., April 28.—It is said that the Boston cotton mill owners have asked the manufacturers of this city to co-operate in curtailing the production of goods by a general closing down. The depression in the cloth market is said to be unprecedented. Within the past fortnight several corporations have passed quarterly dividends. It is believed that if Rhode Island manufacturers agree, those here will come into the agreement.

Swept Out of Existence.

ST. CHARLES, Minn., April 28.—A terrible fire raged in the north end of town early yesterday morning. Over $100,000 worth of property was destroyed. George Smith & Company's general store, M. H. Gales' drygoods; C. E. Smith, furniture; C. A. Johnson, hardware; F. Kuffer, saloon; Henry Frisch, hotel; The Times' printing office, Masonic hall, and a number of other buildings, together with several residences were swept away.

Not Yet Decided.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 28.—Three ballots were taken in the joint Democratic senatorial caucus last night with but slight changes. The last ballot stood: Call, 56; Speer, 40; Bloxham, 1; Gaskins, 1; Crawford, 1. The report of the committee in a day or two, on alleged bribery, will, it is said, make some sensational disclosures, and Call's friends are hopeful of profiting by it.

Identified.

BOSTON, April 28.—The woman found dead in the Parker house Friday was Bertha Coerett, of Phillipsburg, Pa. She was going to Haverhill to take care of a sick sister.

Dispatches Detailing Important Happenings.

A COLLECTION OF ANTIQUITIES.

It Is Decided That Mr. Bookwalter's Collections Are His Own—A Liberal Donation—Important Measure on the Construction of Sidewalks—Other Events That Took Place in the Buckeye State.

COLUMBUS, O., April 28.—The senate passed Mr. McGrew's bill providing that the antique collections of Hon. John Bookwalter, the Springfield millionaire, which have been on exhibition at the Cincinnati museum should not be the property of the museum.

Representative Sterrett, of Miami county, and a member of the board of trustees of the deaf and dumb asylum, introduced in the house a bill amending the law prohibiting a saloon within 300 yards of certain state charitable institutions so as to include the deaf and dumb institution. He explained that the object was to compel the shutting up of all the saloons within the immediate precincts of the asylum, and a place which had caused so much trouble to the management.

An important amendment to the act relating to the construction of sidewalks along the public highways was enacted into a law by the house. It was introduced by Senator Reed, and provides that it shall be lawful for the property owners on the highways not within a municipal corporation to improve the same, as follows: When approved by township trustees he may build and improve a sidewalk of such width as the trustees shall determine, not exceeding six feet and at his own expense, and when completed and approved by the trustees any person who maliciously injures the same shall be liable to the owner thereof and double the amount of damages.

The senate joint resolution providing for an adjournment Thursday was read in the house and referred to a committee. It will be reported back with an amendment substituting Monday, May 4, and it is the general opinion that the week will be taken up with legislation. A number of local bills were passed, mostly to issue municipal bonds.

G. A. R. Meeting.

STEUBENVILLE, O., April 28.—Steubenville is gaily decorated in National colors in honor of the twenty-fifth annual encampment of the Grand Army of Ohio and the eighth annual convention of the Women's Relief Corps. So far there are 500 delegates here. Commander Dowling and staff arrived yesterday.

Ada F. Clarke, president of the Women's Relief Corps, has also arrived. Maj. A. M. Warner and a large delegation from Cincinnati are here. The race for department commander is the all-absorbing talk here. Private Dalzell is working hard, but Maj. Warner's friends claim his election beyond a doubt.

After an Insane Man.

CANTON, O., April 28.—Gottlieb Ichman, who left his home Wednesday night saying he wanted some air, has not yet been found. Sheriff Kreider and Officer Bucherer were hunting him all day Sunday and, although they got trace of him, they could not find him. Unless taken soon he will be a case for the coroner. He has been running about in a naked state since Friday and will not be able to stand exposure much longer. He was ill when he left home.

Mrs. Woodworth at Canton.

CANTON, O., April 28.—Mrs. Maria B. Woodworth, the St. Louis evangelist reported to have left that city under peculiar circumstances, is in Canton, where for months she will conduct religious meetings. She denies the story that she misappropriated money, and claims the entire story to be a malicious falsehood. She says all the money she handled is in a St. Louis bank.

A Requisition for Wilson.

COLUMBUS, O., April 28.—Governor Campbell has honored a requisition for the return to Campbell county, Ky., of Charles Wilson, now under arrest in Cincinnati, and wanted to answer a charge of grand larceny.

A Child's Corpse Found.

IRONTON, O., April 28.—The body of Willie Tanner, three and one-half years old, who fell off a family boat some time ago and was drowned, was found at Belfont yesterday by Engineer Larry Hannory.

Eight-Hour Day Postponed.

COLUMBUS, O., April 28.—At the United Mine Workers' convention in this city yesterday, it was unanimously decided to postpone the date when the eight-hour work day would be established.

Death of a Minister.

WESTERVILLE, O., April 28.—Rev. J. B. Resler, a prominent minister in the United Brethren church, died of paralysis of throat yesterday.

Fatal Lamp Explosion.

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 28.—Saturday night, Mrs. Conrad and her two children aged 14 and 21 months, were sitting at a centre table when a lamp fell from its hangings upon the ceiling and exploded. The three were instantly enveloped in flame and so badly burned that the younger child died from its injuries at midnight and Mrs. Conrad expired Sunday morning. The elder child is seriously burned, but will recover.

Valuable Horses Poisoned.

PITTSBURG, April 28.—Some unknown person broke into the stable of Jacob Kemerer, near Murraysville, last night, and poisoned four imported stallions valued at $10,000, and then cut up his carriage and harness. There is no clew to the perpetrator.

CRUELTY TO COKERS.

A Number of Evictions Made Without Any Resistance.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 28.—Sheriff McCormick, with a posse of ten deputies and accompanied by fifty men of Company C, went to Leisenring and evicted twenty-six families without any resistance.

John Leshko, the terror of the region and leader in all acts of violence, rendered valuable assistance to the sheriff, while a hundred or more of his wild-eyed lawless companions looked on dumbfounded.

James Dougherty, a deputy, caused some excitement by walking away from the sheriff's posse, handing the strikers a flask of whisky, remarking that he had enough of this dirty work.

Having completed the evictions at Leisenring, the posse went to Davidson, the hot-bed of Socialism, and evicted one family. By the time this work was completed, the other families on the sheriff's list had moved their effects.

Black Men Starving in Oklahoma.

ST. LOUIS, April 28.—A dispatch says that people arriving at Paris, Tex., from Purcell and other points along the Canadian river, in the Indian territory, say that negroes are coming over from Oklahoma and begging for something to eat. Their condition is said to be something pathetic. They were deluded into going to Oklahoma last fall in large numbers, and have found none of the good things promised them—no work, no government rations, nothing to afford them a chance to earn an honest penny. Instead, they soon saw the gaunt wolf of starvation at their doors, and now are trying to make their way back to their former homes in Tennessee, Georgia, Mississippi and other southern states.

Publishing House Fire.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28.—The five-story building, Nos. 728 and 730 Cherry street, occupied by the National Publishing company, which conducted an extensive book publishing business, was completely destroyed by fire Sunday morning. Loss about $200,000; insurance, one-third to one-half. The origin of the fire is unknown. One hundred tons of paper which were stored on the top floor were burned.

SENSATION AT MONTE CARLO.

An English Lady Loses a Large Sum Gambling and Jumps Into the Sea.

MONTE CARLO, April 28.—Great excitement has been caused here by a sensational attempt at suicide, which took place Monday night. An English lady of fashionable appearance, who is presumed to have lost large sums recently at the gaming tables, suddenly plunged head foremost into the sea from the top of the terrace, or sea-wall.

A sailor, who noticed the lady's act, without a moment's hesitation sprang into the water after her, and succeeded in bringing her safe to land. The lady's name and the name of the gallant sailor who rescued her have not as yet been made public.

A Strong Gas Well.

FRANKTON, Ind., April 28.—A monster gas well was drilled in by Urmston & Son, millers at this place. It is the strongest well here, and no doubt the strongest in the gas belt. Its roaring can be heard for miles, and the volume of gas put forth is incalculable. Much difficulty was experienced in packing it, and only after two days' hard work was the well secured with a three-inch casing, and then not until after one set of workmen were completely blinded and had to give way to relief. The well has created a sensation. A stiff cady hat was thrown into the gas current and it was blown into fifty pieces. The well has been named the "Vulcan," and it outrivals the wonderful well "Popocatepetl," drilled here about a month ago.

The Two Jacks.

BROOKLYN, April 28.—Two men were arrested here on suspicion of being Jack the Ripper. One, Neil Hensen, a Swede, was discharged. A German named Henry Weisman was held until the housekeeper of the East River hotel can come over and see him.

Don't Feel Well,

And yet you are not sick enough to consult a physician, or you refrain from so doing for fear you will alarm yourself and friends—we will tell you just what you need. It is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which will lift you out of that uncertain, uncomfortable, dangerous condition, into a state of good health, confidence and cheerfulness. You've no idea how potent this peculiar medicine is in cases like yours.

ALAS!

How wretched is the man who has falle a victim to Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, or diseased Liver, wi all the horrible attendants. Look upo the picture. Poor man, being tired o dragging out a miserable existence, h is the picture of despondency; altoget er, he is rather a forlorn specimen. D we pity him? Of course; but at th same time feel assured that in a measur he is to blame for the bad state into which he has fallen. A sure, safe, speedy and easy cure can be found in Simmons Liver Regulator—Nature's own remedy. No mercury or deleterious drugs, not unpleasant to the taste, and always reliable—just such a remedy as you can pin your faith to without a shadow o disappointment. Read the testimonial, don't take our word for it:

"I have been subject to severe spells of Congestion of the Liver, and have been in the habit of taking from 15 to 20 grains of calomel, which generally laid me up for three or four days. Lately I have been taking Simmons Liver Regulator which gave me relief, without any interruption to business." J. Hugg, Middletown, O.

IMMIGRATION AND INDEPENDENCE

As one result of the untrammeled migration and intermingling of the different populations of the world facilitated by the cheapness and freedom of locomotion of the present day, we find unhappily that immigrants to the United States not infrequently bring with them the personal, social, political and sectarian issues and differences which agitate the countries from which they come. In this freedom of intercourse and in the very easy acquisition of American citizenship, we can discover evidences that our domestic policies, as well as our foreign policies, are liable to be improperly colored and influenced by considerations, prejudices, and sympathies with which as a nation of internationality, we should have nothing to do, which are invasive, if not destructive, of that national independence and autonomy essential to the character, honor and welfare of the United States of America and which cannot fail to impair our reputation for disinterestedness and our consequent weight in the council of nations. It becomes, therefore, manifestly our duty as citizens of a constitutional republic to recur frequently to those principles of our constitution which are essential for the preservation of our national policy and to estimate at their proper standard the duties, and responsibilities inherent in American citizenship.—Ex-Secretary Bayard in the May Forum

OUR HUGE INTERNAL COMMERCE

Statistics of our internal commerce have never been accurately collected, but it has been estimated that the domestic produce moved and exchanged in this country last year amounted in value to $25,000,000,000. The annual river commerce of Cincinnati is valued at more than $50,000,000. The tonnage that passes up and down the Detroit river annually is greater than that which enters the port of Liverpool. The number of vessels that enter and clear at Chicago exceeds every year by 7,000 the number of those that enter and clear at New York. The tonnage passing through the Sault Ste. Marie in 1890 exceeded that passing through the great Suez canal by 1,000,000 tons. Our lake, river and coastwise tonnage amounts to nearly 4,000,000. The present marvelous cheapness of water transportation is of inestimable value to the people in enabling that transportation to compete with railroads and to regulate their charges. Naturally the demand for the improvement of the lake harbors, of connecting streams and canals, and of the immense water-courses of this country has increased in its importunity with the increase of this commerce, but the increasing appropriations in the river and harbor bills are not yet even one-half as large as the amounts proposed by the engineer board.—Senator Frye in the May Forum.

There are a good many who are not satisfied with Marion's condition this spring. It is not bad, but things are not rushing like they might be or should be, if the city is to keep up with the progressive procession. No great thing has leaked out of the secret portals of the board of trade. There is a suspicion that the board is a disappointment.

The ground was broken Monday for the Grant monument at Riverside, New York. After the experiences of New York's tardiness in erecting monuments, despite her glowing promises, the start on the Grant monument is decidedly gratifying. It would hardly do to make a guess on the time that will elapse until it is completed.

If coffee has been spilled on white fine damask pour [illegible] the stain, before the cloth has been laundered, with a mixture made by dissolving the yolk of an egg in a little tepid water. Wash the mixture off with clean warm water and the stain will banish with it.

Tea and other [illegible] stains may be removed with [illegible] well rubbed into the material, dried in and then washed out in two or three waters. Glycerine is also effectual for the purpose.

Javelle water, which may be procured from a druggist, is a useful thing to have on hand for removing fruit stains from linen preparatory to washing. Sweet milk will often remove a fresh stain, so will boiling water with [illegible] soda in it.

A Savory Omelet.

Mix lightly about half a saltspoonful of salt, a small teaspoonful of parsley, washed, dried and chopped, to four whole eggs. See that this is all amalgamated, but do not beat it more than you can help. Heat two ounces of fresh butter in a frying pan and when quite melted and very hot pour in the eggs, etc. Hold the handle of the pan in one hand and stir the omelet with a spoon with the other. Directly the mixture begins to set leave off stirring, but shake the pan for a minute or two, then fold it over in half, and keep shaking the pan till the outside is a nice gold color, when it is done, and must be slipped off on to a hot dish. If the omelet has to wait after it is cooked some cooks add a couple of spoonfuls of milk to the eggs, etc., at the first, but this is not really necessary. Remember the cooking does not cease when you lift the omelet from the fire, so do not overcook it in the pan, or it will become like leather.

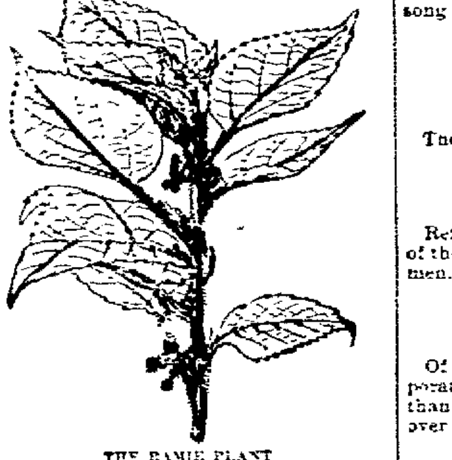
SCIENCE AND PROGRESS.

TOPICS OF POPULAR INTEREST AND PRACTICAL VALUE.

The Ramie Plant, from Which Is Obtained a Fine, Soft and Long Fiber, Useful for Any Purpose to Which Cotton, Flax or Silk Is Adapted.

An effort was made some years ago to [illegible] the culture of the ramie plant [illegible] California. It was unsuccessful, because the processes depended upon for working the plant to obtain its fiber proved unsatisfactory. There appears, however, to be of late a renewed interest in the project, and it is claimed that the problem of utilizing the plant which thrives well in that climate is in a fair way to be solved.

The ramie plant, Boehmeria nivea, is a herbaceous shrub allied to the true nettles but differing from them in not having stingy hairs. The plants throw up many stalks from the roots, growing from three to six feet in height according to the quality and moisture of the soil. They propagate readily from root separations, which method is almost exclusively followed, according to the California Fruit Grower, which illustrates the general character of the ramie plant as here shown, and furnishes the following facts in regard to it.



THE RAMIE PLANT.

The leaves of the true ramie are of a deep green color on the upper side, but are covered on the under side with an abundant coating of whitish down, which gives them a beautiful frosted, silvery appearance. For many years the orientals have cultivated the plant for the superior fiber of its inner bark, from which they manufacture the famous grass cloth so highly valued. The fiber is one of the very finest, being very long and almost as soft as silk, and can be used for almost any purpose to which cotton, flax or silk is adapted. The fiber does not mildew or rot, and is for some reasons repugnant to moths and insects which are destructive to fibers and cloths.

The great drawback to cultivating ramie for fiber purposes has been the difficulty of detaching the gummy outer substance from the fiber. The process of splitting the bark and scraping it with knives, as practiced by the orientals, is entirely too tedious and expensive for this country. A large number of machines of more or less value have been invented for work on ramie stalks, but most of them have been found lacking in essential qualifications. There has come recently, however, from California the report of a new machine which it is claimed will work ramie fiber profitably by the dry process.

Largest Locomotives in the World.

The Iron Trade Review calls attention to four of what are said to be the largest locomotives ever built in the world nearing completion at the Baldwin Locomotive works at Philadelphia, Pa. They are being built for the Grand Trunk railroad, and will be used in the St. Clair tunnel, which runs under the bed of the St. Clair river, between Port Huron, Mich., and Sarnia, Ont. There are five pairs of 50-inch driving wheels on each side of the boilers, and the cab is in the center of the boiler extend[illegible] over the two tanks. The locomotive is thus constructed to allow it to run equally well backward and forward. The cylinders are 22 by 28 inches, and the boiler 74 inches in diameter, with capacity to carry 160 pounds of steam pressure. Each locomotive with the water tanks [illegible] and the starting supply of coal on board weighs [illegible] pounds, the average weight [illegible] running [illegible] which takes about [illegible] being 180,000 pounds.

The Rotation of the Globe.

When next you come to eat an egg you can easily make an experiment which is not only productive of [illegible] amusement, but also illustrates in a manner [illegible] clear [illegible] that even a child can [illegible] comprehend the double movement of the earth, which [illegible] [illegible] around the sun [illegible]

Lullabies That Mothers Sing to Lull Their Little Ones to Rest in Many Lands.

Every country has its mothers and babies, and there [illegible] every country has its cradle songs, and [illegible] [illegible] which the Chinese parent strives to woo the spirit of rest [illegible] little yellow faced treasure to the poetic verse of the Italian mother rocking her bambino there is a thread of connection that winds its tender way from ocean to ocean and from continent to continent. What can be prettier than the simple [illegible]

> Baloo, baloo, my wee thing,
> Oh, [illegible] [illegible]
> Thy [illegible]
> A [illegible]

The following is of Gaelic extraction.

> He shee, he [illegible], what shall I do wi' ye?
> Black's the life that I lead wi' ye,
> Many o' ye, little to gie ye,
> Heighoo, heighoo, what shall I do wi' ye?

Our old familiar

> Bye Baby Bunting,
> Thy father's gone a hunting,
> Gone to get a rabbit skin
> To wrap his Baby Bunting in.

and the Hibernian,

> Hush, baby dear, weep not awhile,
> And o'er thee shall bright treasures smile,
> As did thy royal sires once own
> In the green land of Conn and Owen, will bear comparison with the crooning verses of most countries. One or two are particularly melodious. Among these we must quote this bright lyric which you will hear in every hamlet and every village of song loving Brittany:

> Go to sleep, [illegible] little darling,
> Go to sleep, dear little Pierrot;
> I'll sing sweet and low
> And rock to and fro
> The [illegible] of Pierrot,
> Whom we all love.

Then there is the pretty Italian,

> Sleep, my baby, sleep, my darling,
> While I hush thee with my song;
> Sleep until the new sun rises,
> Sleep in peace the whole night long.

Reference has been made to the rhythm of the Chinese lullaby verse, here is a specimen.

> Snail, snail, come out and be fed,
> Put out your horns and then your head,
> And thy mamma will give thee mutton,
> For thou art doubly dear to me.

Of all the soft motherly ideas ever incorporated in song there are none more so than those of the Hottentot who bends over her baby singing

> Why dost thou weep, my child?
> Wherefore dost thou weep?
> Hush, darling, calm thee,
> And sleep, my child, and sleep.

Size and Longevity.

Although there is some relation between size and longevity—the duration of the period of growth and length of life being, speaking generally, longest in the largest animals—there is no fixed relation between the two. The largest organisms live the longest, some trees reaching an age of 6,000 years, and some animals, as whales, several centuries. And after maturity is reached larger animals require longer time than smaller animals to secure the preservation of the species. The explanation of this, as pointed out by both Leuckart and Herbert Spencer, is that "the absorbing surface of an animal only increases as the square of its length, while its size increases as the cube, and it therefore follows that the longer an animal becomes the greater will be the difficulty experienced in assimilating any nourishment over and above that which it requires for its own needs, and therefore the more slowly will it reproduce itself." We, however, find corresponding duration of life among animals of very different size, says Longman's Magazine. For example, the toad and the cat live as long as the horse, the crayfish as long as the pig, and the pike and carp as long as the elephant. In an interesting appendix, from which these facts are quoted, Dr. Weismann cites the case of a sea anemone which lived not less than sixty-six years. It was placed by Sir John Dalzell in a small glass jar in the Edinburgh Botanical gardens in 18[illegible], being then, as companions with other individuals reared from the egg period, fully seven years old. It died a natural death in 1887.

Jocular Literature.

Mr. W. C. Hazlitt in his studies in popular literature shows by quotations without end the ancient descent of some of famous jokes and gems of repartee that bob up in every generation dressed anew, perhaps, fostered upon other parents and regarded by most people as entirely new. Some American students of this matter pretend that they can predict the exact time when such and such a joke or story may be expected to appear in our newspapers. These jokes have their orbits; they run through the press from New York to California, to disappear and reappear in a certain number of years, slightly altered perhaps, but still the same old friends.

Mr. Hazlitt notes a number of the most famous jokes of the last generation in England and traces them back step by step, showing in some instances that they were hoary veterans when the first Joe Miller appeared, 150 years ago. Even the mists of Hindoo mythology [illegible] not escape Mr. Hazlitt, who thinks he finds the germs of sundry good jokes lurking therein. The modern quatrain,

> The [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
> Is [illegible] I would have [illegible]
> She swears [illegible] and true she swears,
> For I [illegible] where she bought it is traced to ancient Greece.

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses One Dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's. Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Peculiar in its "good name at home,"—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly.

A handsome young lady who is a probable future applicant for a place in the Marion schools has said that rather than pass an examination she would prefer the California plan of election—of being kissed by all the members of the school board and a sure election following. This young lady has evidently looked over the handsome sextet that controls the destinies of the public schools and already presumes upon a pleasurable fate.

A shipment of men's furnishings reached Sam Oppenheimer's short in a funny way this week. In unpacking the goods a box that should have contained two fine white ties were missing. The thing was looked into and it was quite evident that the ties were cleverly stolen in transportation. A knot in the box had been pried out and then the thief punched a finger through the bottom of a pasteboard box containing the ties, and in someway cleverly extracted the ties, that are suited only to full dress.

The county commissioners had a hearing on the Wynn ditch in Prospect township Monday. Claims for damages were filed and the hearing continued.

Mrs. Ryan, wife of the recently deceased Patrick Ryan, has been quite sick at her home on south East street. She was reported some better this afternoon, however.

Surveyor Scott was out with the viewers today on the proposed Brush Ridge and Morral Town pike road, which has been petitioned for. The pike is to extend from Brush Ridge to the Wyandot county line, a distance of eight miles.

August Young and Robert Snodgrass, of Mt. Gilead, were in the city Monday, looking at the outfit of the U. S. Medicine Co. Mr. Snodgrass has a number of trained horses and mules, and these gentlemen are thinking of going into the show business.

D. O. Young, proprietor of the Pierson House at Upper Sandusky, was in the city Monday evening, on his way to Indianapolis to bring back with him Frank Beery, who was injured in the wreck of Big Four train 10 Sunday morning at that place. Mr. Beery was severely injured in the spine, had his hand torn and ankle sprained.

C. Aultman & Co.'s special train of threshing rigs bound from Canton to Western agencies passed through Marion via the Erie and C. and E. Monday evening at 6:30. It was quite a handsome display and attracted a good many admiring gazes. But we are used to seeing fine turnouts of threshing rigs, products of Marion shops, so the special train was not such a wonder to Marion as it will be to many cities in its long journey. It was an enterprising hit, however, and ought to prove quite an advertisement.

The United States Marine Band has been granted a brief leave of absence to visit some of the principal cities, among them Columbus, which will be visited April 30. A special exhibition concert, with a presidential program, the same as is played at the White House receptions in Washington, will be given at the Board of Trade, on the afternoon and evening of the 30 inst. Mlle. Marie Decca, a famous prima donna from Her Magesty's Opera Co., England, will be the soloist. This is the first trip the band has been permitted to make.

An Ideal Singer in Oratorio.

A copy of the Hamilton Spectator is before us, containing the report of the nineteenth concert of the Philharmonic Society. The account has this to say of Mrs. Genevra Johnston Bishop:

The soloist was Mrs. Genevra Johnston Bishop, of Chicago. The lady is an ideal oratorio singer. Not that she is physically a magnificent woman—large, robust, graceful and handsome (though this goes a long way, too), but because her voice is like her. It is a most useful and telling voice, pure and musical throughout, broad toned, resonant and true as a bell. This useful voice she makes excellent use of. She sings as an honest singer should—earnestly, intelligently, correctly and without any vibrate and other florid nonsense which lesser vocalists love to display. In short Mrs. Bishop is an artist, and the most sasisfactory the Philharmonic Society has yet engaged.

Probate Court.

Hearing in the case of George Krause, administrator, against Alonzo Krause, et al.

Hearing in case of A. C. Mounts, administrator, against the estate of John F. Phillips, continued from April 13; claim allowed.

Edward Wynn, guardian of Geo. E. Wynn, filed bond; approved and letters issued.

Z. W. Hipsher, guardian of John M. Saylor, filed third and final account and resignation.

C. C. Fisher, assignee of Geo. H. Wright and Martha E. Wright, filed bond and letters issued.

Wesley Almendinger, administrator of the estate of Frederick Schelling, filed appraisement of real estate.

Death from LaGrippe.

Mrs. Margaret Kinsler, wife of John Kinsler, Sr., mention of whose serious illness was made Monday, died at her home at the corner of Cherry street and Bellefontaine avenue, Monday afternoon about 3 o'clock, aged 64 years and 7 months. Deceased was taken sick with grip about a week previous to her death, which terminated in a fatal case of pneumonia. She leaves a husband and four children, Mrs. Wesley Romoser, Mrs. Keiser, of Cleveland, Charley and Joe Kinsler.

The funeral services will be conducted Wednesday afternoon at the house, at 2 o'clock, Rev. Shaffer, of the Lutheran church, officiating. The remains will be interred at the Marion cemetery.

Big Four Engines.

Mr. Barnard of the Big Four has awarded the contract for twenty new locomotives to the Brooks Locomotive Works. These engines will be the fastest and finest on the road and will be ready by the 1st of August. Two will be for passenger service and will weigh 125,000 pounds, being about 4000 pounds heavier than the passenger engines now in use on the road. They will have three pairs of driving-wheels 5 feet 6 inches in diameter and a four-wheeled front truck. The twelve freight engines will be of the ten-wheel style, weighing 132,000 pounds. The six switch engines will be six-wheelers of a lighter weight, probably 98,000.

Notice.

The meeting of the Alumni Association will be held Wednesday evening, April 29th at p.m. in the Central building. Let all be present. By order of the Executive committee.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has the largest sale of any medicine before the public. Any honest druggist will confirm this statement.

MRS. DELL DEWOLFE.

Called Meeting of Council.

There will be a meeting of the city council this evening, at 7 o'clock at the Mayor's office, for the purpose of discussing matters relative to the fire department and agricultural interests.

J. S. DUDLEY, Mayor.

They Have Won Their Case.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 28.—The stonecutters employed on the new jail struck yesterday because the contractors would not discharge a non-union foreman. The strikers were given to understand that they could either resume work or go. The contractors claim that their agreement permits them to employ any person they please and no questions asked.

Death of an Old Lady.

PUTNAM, Conn., April 28.—Mrs. Julia Casey Gibbon, 71 years old, a wealthy resident of Thompson, died yesterday at her country seat "Esmonde" near here. Mrs. Gibbon was the widow of the late James Kenny Gibbon, and belonged to the well known Casey family, of Philadelphia. She will be buried in Greenwood cemetery, New York.

La Grippe in New York.

NEW YORK, April 28.—Of the 249 deaths in the last forty-eight hours twenty-five were from grip.

A Mystery Explained.

The papers contain frequent notices of rich, pretty and educated girls eloping with negroes, tramps and coachmen. The well-known specialist, Dr. Franklin Miles, says all such girls are more or less hysterical, nervous, very impulsive, unbalanced; usually subject to headache, neuralgia, sleeplessness, immoderate crying or laughing. These show a weak nervous system for which there is no remedy equal to Restorative Nervine. Trial bottles and a fine book, containing many marvelous cures, free at Denison & Co.'s, and Hoberman & Co.'s, who also sell, and guarantee Dr. Miles' celebrated New Heart Cure, the finest of heart tonics. Cures fluttering, short breath, etc.

It's the opinion of the Columbus Dispatch that Judas Iscariot was born nineteen hundred years too soon. He should have lived in this century and been the owner of a base ball club. He could then have excused himself by saying that he had been "thrown down" so much that his teeth were loose and been patted on the back till he was round-shouldered.

Do Not Suffer Any Longer.

Knowing that a cough can be checked in a day, and the first stages of consumption broken in a week, we hereby gaurantee Dr. Acker's English Cough Remedy, and will refund the money to all who buy, take it as per directions, and do not find our statement correct. Sold by H. C. Hoberman & Co and W. B. Foye.

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

FANCIES AND FALLACIES

Some Remarks About an Opera House Project, Together with Minor Matters.

There is a project being discussed within hearing of the city council that has a business ring to it, and one that would give Marion the long and much coveted opera house. The bulk of the talk is in favor of a public building that can be utilized as opera house, fire department, city prison, library, offices, etc., and one that would be a credit to the city, such as is needed.

The conversion of the old city hall into offices may have had something to do toward precipitating the talk, and if so there are a great many who delight in the semi-destruction of that prehistoric structure, that has passed the age of ornamentation and almost its usefulness. The talk, as it goes, names this old place as the site of the proposed new building. It would certainly be no desecration of the history of Marion to raze the city building to the ground and erect a new and modern one. If anything is needed to perpetuate memory of the past, the Erie depot will probably answer for many years to come.

Albeit, we have authority to say that the vigor of a new and enterprising council may give the matter formal discussion ere the leaves begin to fall, and the people given an opportunity to vote on the subject, and what the people want they generally get, you know. With these few remarks that agonizing cry of municipal poverty which is so startling is almost perceptible, but there are citizens, and good ones, too, who believe that the city could take the project in hand and scarcely feel the effects of its consummation.

—O—

A new law was passed by the General Assembly last winter, giving cities of the second grade fourth class authority to issue bonds for the construction of sidewalks. This act relieved the old city council of the necessity of having a special act passed for that purpose, as was contemplated. The result of this legislation is to relieve the small property owners of any hardship that an order to construct new walks may enforce. Under this act we may expect a vast improvement in walks during the season.

—O—

It is not exactly safe to predict just where the vigor of the tax inquisitors is going to be felt. There is a falling temperature during the day when someone is not given a call to come up and straighten out some back taxes, and there are on many occasions opportunities for argument. The recent finding of over $400 due the state from the estate of a deceased christian patriarch near Caledonia, which is alleged to be due from the low valuation of personal property, has caused considerable comment where it is known, and the justice of the figures is questioned. It is being pretty hard to satisfactorily strike the correct value of a cow between the assessor's returns and the figures she sells for at a seasonable sale.

—O—

The inquiry of a new member of council, as to whether there were anybody anxious to build a street railway in Marion, recalls the manner in which our once warm, fond hopes were frozen out by the stringencies of the council. It might be possible that anyone who has a consuming street railway fever could entertain the present city council.

—O—

The local Salvation Army has wintered through a rough season, without a hall, and comes out with the spring buds as noisy as ever. With all its crudities, inconveniences, unpopularity and the annoyance of the noisy, tag-tag element that follows it around from house to house, the Army should be commended for its tenacity and energy.

Madame Janauschek.

For positively the only time in the local history of our city we are to have the great Janauschek, who is upon her final tour of this country. She will appear in Music Hall on next Tuesday evening in her wonderful impersonation of "Meg Merrilies." In this great actress is combined all that goes to make the histrionic art noble and sublime. In the annals of the tragic art no actress stands out in such bold relief—so utterly complete in all that goes to exemplify perfection in every sense of the word. Her energy is ceaseless—her tact exquisite—her skillful zeal genuine—her historic art unequaled. But once in a generation does such a marvel in dramatic history come upon the boards, and Janauschek stands grandly, sublimely alone in this decade as the severe yet brilliant successor of Rachel and Ristori, who live only in the memory of our elders. The height of her massive sublimity and the moving depth of her tender pathos is beyond all criticism, because there is no model by which to compare or judge her—she is simply beyond compare—she is Janauschek.

Dr. Mincer, who is now at home at his Silver street residence, will fit your eyes with glasses in the most scientific manner, making a fit the first time. Eyes are not weakened by long tests. If you need glasses give him a trial. 136tf

Married at St. Mary's.

A large audience was present at St. Mary's Catholic church this morning to celebrate the nuptial ceremonies of Mr. John J. St. Germain, clerk at the C. and E., and Miss Sarah O'Donnell, which occurred at 8 o'clock.

After the marriage Mr. and Mrs. St. Germain repaired to the home of Mrs. O'Donnell, mother of the bride, on Greenwood street, where a wedding breakfast was served to a few intimate friends and relatives. The newly married couple left on Erie train four at noon for Niagara Falls and Canada, where they will spend a short honeymoon.

Progress.
